

Solstice Challenge

With winter coming and darkness descending, what better way to welcome the new year than with Light. This fall/winter's challenge is to build something that provides light. Given that all wood burns admirably, thus providing the requisite light, we have added the condition that all submissions cannot be firewood and/or kindling or burn during their expected usage.

photos by Jim Johnson

