May Newsletter

Next Meeting Tuesday, May 9th will be at Lee Valley Tools

Ted Lightfoot has made a 40 year career in carpentry taking the road-less travelled specialising in Arts and Crafts style homes. He has done everything from ground-up construction, extensive restoration and renovations to slab furniture and pen turning. Ted is a founding member of the Fraser Valley Woodturner's Guild and has been gracious mentor to countless young woodworkers.

The April Meeting

Our Guild Members met for the first time at Lee Valley Tools in Langford. More than 70 Members enjoyed and informative presentation by Jim Ham. Several Members browsed in the store and completed some personal shopping before the meeting. Tea and coffee during the break were a welcome addition to the evening.

Silent Auction

The Guild will have a Silent Auction at the June meeting. Please start looking around for items that you might want to donate or sell at the auction. Proceeds from donated items will go to the Guild whereas the proceeds from the sale items will be split 75% for the donating Member and 25% to the Guild.

Spring Tool Challenge

The June meeting (June 13th) is only one meeting away and that means your workshop tool needs to be finished by then. Check out the website for details.

The "Pro's Corner"

A place has been created on our website for Members, who are professional woodworkers, to advertise their businesses. "Pro's Corner" contains the name of the woodworker, their website address or contact information and a few words about their area of specialization. Please email your information to webguy@viwg.com if you would like to be included in the "Pro's Corner".

Cheers,

Neil Bosdet
